

What time is it?

- Dad: Gosh! It's half past eleven!
 Sophie! Where are you? Are you still up?
- Sophie: I'm in my bedroom, Dad. It's Saturday tomorrow,
 I can sleep late.
- Dad: No, you can't. It's your turn to walk the dog.
- Sophie: No, it's not. It's Fred's turn.
- Dad: Where's Fred?
- Fred: I'm in the living room.
- Dad: Fred! It's midnight.
- Fred: I must email my friends tonight.
- Dad: Not tonight. Now go to bed! Both of you!
- Fred: But I'm hungry, Dad. I want an orange or an apple.
- Dad: OK, let's go to the kitchen and have something to eat.
- Sophie: Fred, it's your turn tomorrow morning.
- Fred: No! I don't want to get up at half past six!
 Oh, why do we have a dog?
- Sophie: Come on Fred. Don't be so silly!...
 Can I have the bathroom first?

half past eleven – halv tolv
 bedroom – sovrum
 Saturday – lördag
 sleep – sova
 walk the dog – rasta hunden
 living room – vardagsrum
 midnight – midnatt

friend – vän
 tonight – i natt
 bed – säng
 Go to bed! – Gå lägg dig!
 both of you – båda två
 hungry – hungrig
 orange – apelsin

apple – äpple
 kitchen – kök
 something – någonting
 get up – stiga upp
 Don't be so silly! – Var inte så fånig!
 bathroom – badrum
 first – först